

MEMBERS AWARDS 2005

The annual Repak Awards Dinner took place in the Berkeley Court Hotel on Wednesday 5th October 2005.

The event provided Repak with the opportunity to thank and award members and stakeholders who have made substantial efforts and achievements in the area of packaging recycling in the last 12 months.

The objective of the Repak Awards is to promote and encourage good recycling practice amongst industry, local authorities, waste contractors and our youth.

The Repak Recycling Award is made from recovered/recycled glass, wood, steel and plastic. These represent the four material packaging types. The award was specially commissioned by Repak and was made by artist Ronan Halpin based in Kilkenny. Listed Amongst collectors of his work are the former Taoiseach John Bruton, former US President Bill Clinton and writer Seamus Heaney.

The awards were presented by Dick Roche T.D., Minister for Environment, Heritage and Local Government to members and stakeholders in the following categories:
