

Producing recycled paper involves between 28-70% less energy consumption than virgin paper and uses less water.

